legends in our mind

Dutch rockband Legends in our Mind may be regarded as Rotterdams' worst kept secret. For almost two years now, the band traveled around the country and part of Europe to do what they're best at : blowing minds, breaking hearts, and leaving burning tracks when they get off stage afterwards.

Three boys met each other after years filled with adventures that brought them along ska, punk, reggae, metalcore. With their minds more than ever set to the purity of music, they produce an ever increasing number of songs that can be pushed under labels like rock 'n roll, emo, wave - if you wish to push them under a label anyway. The always present influence by rockmonsters like U2, The Police and Muse is added by a touch of flavour of the week (currently being Dredg, Ours, Perfect Circle).

The band has had over 75 performances since 2003 in venues like Nighttown (supporting Nada Surf), Waterfront, Rotown, Winston Kingdom, Simplon and on occasions such as GPZH and the Kyjovski Festival (CZ). Since march '03, the band has added an acoustic set to their catalogue. With this addition, Legends in our Mind can play on any stage, at every streetcorner, anywhere on the planet. With an extra guitar player the typical LiOM-sound is translated into a similar, yet different feel.

Legends in our Mind had a very succesful European tour that lead them through Germany, Czech Republic and Poland. They will be returning to those countries on their short European tour in april 2004. After that, the band will continue their work in the studio to record material that should result in the successor of 'Living for Today', their first release that sold 1000 copies in the Rotterdam area.

Three confident musician form a ambitious band - eager to make the best music around, and eager to perform that.
